Stamp Collecting Is A Fifty Million Dollar Business Says Phil Ward

"Stamp Collecting More Popular Than Ever" is the heading over a feature page interview with Philip H. Ward Jr., of Philadelphia as published in the January 13 issue of the Philadelphia Record and written by Rex Rittenhouse.

"Thirteen stamps, worth a total of $8000 to a collector, are examined by Philip H. Ward, Jr." is the title under a picture which shows Mr. Ward gazing through a magnifying glass at a page of 5c and 10c stamps of the 1847 issue.

Stamp collectors spend $50,000,000 annual for stamps says Mr. Ward. Ward began collecting stamps at the age of 7, he grew up and became a successful Electrical engineer. His love of stamps and his interest in them became his greatest obsession and he gave up his engineering business 15 years ago to devote his entire time to stamps.

Public interest can be gauged years ago to devote his entire time to stamps.

Public interest can be gauged from the fact that the department stores of Philadelphia and New York allot ground floor space to stamps. Gimbel's in New York devote one fifth of their entire ground floor space to stamps.

More than 800 newspaper carry stamp columns and over 40 publications, weekly, monthly and quarterly are devoted entirely to stamp collecting.

Half a dozen men in this country have collections worth a million dollars or more says Mr. Ward. Feminine stamp fans are greatly in the minority, but John D. Rockefeller's granddaughter, Mrs. Caroline Prentice Cromwell, of New York, has been very active, and Mrs. Louise Davis, another New Yorker, has one of the most complete collections of air mail stamps in America.

The entire article is well prepared and written in an interesting manner. Much is told that is common knowledge to the collector and the article should be of value to our hobby.

New York Stamp Dealers Plead Guilty

Abraham Kalish and Moris J. Stern pleaded guilty Wednesday to charges of violating the counterfeit laws by changing perforations and grills and overprinting United States stamps, and having in their possession the implements necessary to do this work, Mr. Stern also pleaded guilty to the possession of approximately fifteen thousand of these stamps. Sentence will be passed on March 6. Mervin Haycock, who pleaded guilty on December 21, last, was given a suspended sentence.

Corner On Korean Stamp Is The Story From New York City

There has been no new information of any great interest about the Korean Flag stamp other than that it is said that three New York Dealers or investors, laid cash on the line for the balance of the stock in the Agency at Washington. ington.

This accounts for the high prices that have already been put on sheets which we see quoted as high as $4.95 and we are told that the asking price for top blocks of ten with name is $1.50.

Still no announcement from Washington as to quantity printed or issued, but we do expect that there will be some surprised people when the figures are given out as we have long felt that this stamp was a very much smaller issue than the others of the series.

A letter from one correspondent

stamp was a very much smaller issue than the others of the series. A letter from one correspondent states that he understands collectors are clamoring for a reprinting of the stamp. This should not be done. The stamps were on sale long enough that any collector who wanted them could buy them for face value and there would be no more reason for reprinting this stamp than for reprinting the 50c Zeppelins.

The New York Sun states that Korean officials in Washington have also asked for a reissue of the stamp. It was pointed out by the Department that stamps that have been removed from sale at the Agency in the past have not been ordered back for sale there, so says The Sun.

They forget the 10c Lindberg. Perhaps the reason the Koreans asked for a reissue was so that the stamp might be made correct instead of in error as regards the flag and if such were done there could be no objection on the part of collectors as it would in effect

THE WHAT IS IT STAMP

That all stamp interest does not center around U. S. issues is well proven by the number of letters received from readers with reference to the stamp pictured in our issue of January 11, above which we had the head line, "What Is It?".

We can not quote from all but have selected the letter which the address was inadvertently seems to be the most thorough and given incorrectly. New Postal Notes And Stamps Ready For Use On February 1, 1945

The following announcement is by the Postoffice Department. We illustrate both the note and one of the stamps. No information is given as to colors of the stamps and we shall have to await their issue before we can announce the colors. No information is given as to whether any of the stamps will be sold to collectors but no doubt many collectors will succeed in buying some from their local postmasters. The stamps should be put on sale at the Agency at Washington as the revenue from them would be considerable for the government. A complete set would cost the collector $4.95, Postal notes will be on sale at the 1,800 first-class post offices throughout the country on February 1, 1945. They are in denominations of $0, $1, $2, $3, $4, $5 $6, $7, $8, $9, and $10. Eighteen denominations of stamps will be issued in connection with the postal notes: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 20, 30, 40, 50, 60, 70, 80 and 90 cents.

of sale and accounting make it possible to handle the notes at a uniform fee of 5 cents. The conventional money order is not being displaced by the new note.

They can be cashed at any post office in the United States. This is the procedure that will be followed when postal notes become available. The person who wants a postal note for $2.93 will go to the money order window. The clerk will affix a 90c and 3c stamp to a $2 postal note and exchange the note for $2.98. Then are no applications for the purchaser to fill out, no writing to be done by the clerk. The purchaser leaves the window, writes the name of the payee on the note, detaches his record stub on which he records the payee's name, and mails the postal note. The note itself is a pre-punched calculating card form.

We want to incorporate in our service as many as possi-ble of the extraordinary advances and improvements which have been realized in American busi-ness, and we want, while per-forming our work as efficiency as we know how to do it, to charge no more for a specific service than that service costs."

The new type of money order will be made available to post of-fices other than those of the first class as rapidly as adequate stocks of postal notes come from the presses.

The size of the postal note stamp will be the same as the regular postage stamp. The lettering at the top of the stamp is in white faced Gothic on a dark

WARNER BATES

VICTORY SOON Some Thoughts On Buying Stamps From Approvals

When one looks over the stamp publications for years past they are apt to notice that there has been but little apparent change in the methods of selling stamps

can go back beyond the turn of the century and find that sending stamps on approval was a custom then and it is a custom

In those days there were many offers to submit stamps on ap-proval and few if any offers to fill want lists,

Considering the approval angle as one of the most important methods of dealers sales then and now, we might look at this method and see how it fit into the scheme of stamp collecting then and how it fits now.

Back in those days, the specialist had hardly been heard of The general custom was to collect the world. Due to that fact, the sending of stamps on any methods of dealers sales then the sending of stamps on approval was the most ideal method of supplying the collector for a dealer could send almost anything and the collector would find a plenty for the money he could spend on such a selection could spend on such a selection.

In fact I would go on record that the collectors of those days that the collectors of those days would much rather have an approval selection of stamps well scattered about the world than to have a selection which would consist of a single country, for variety was the goal and one wanted to fill spots all through the album. the al album.

the album.

For these reasons, sending stamps on approval at that time was about the most ideal form of doing business between the collector and dealer and to the best advantage of both parties.

Let us look at the approval business today and see if it is not a bit out of date. Many dealers realize this and do not cater strongly to the approval trade, except under certain conditions and in certain lines.

Only the uninitiated still col-

Only the uninitiated still collect in a hapazard manner, by buying anything they have not got in their collection. Only a got in their collection. Only a few collect in a general manner Only a and take the whole world. These few will learn different some day and there will then be a new day and there will then be a new few, a new lot of beginners who will take their place.

For this type of collector the old style approvals are still one of the best methods for them to use in filling in spaces in their albums, after once making a good start. The type and class of stamps that are bought by this type of collector are mostly stamps under 10 cents in value and as a result their business is and as a result their business is of little interest or value to any good sized dealer. Much of their business goes to the small trade and to those who offer stamps in large books at low minimum type of collector than in the old days. This new type of collector may or may not be a specialist for to us the word specialist is a questionable one which is often wrongly applied. It is common custom to call a man a specialist when he limits his collecting activities to United States stamps, to British Colonies or to activities to United States stamps, to British Colonies or to any single country or group. Such collections may be confined principally to the straight cata-logue numbers without any serious attempt on the part of the ious attempt on the part of the collector to add varieties or to study his stamps with the thought of building a collection which will include cancellations, covers, blocks, and minor varieties such as are found in the collections of the real student of stamps. stamps.

With regard to the word specilist we often wonder just where

Here then under these two groups of collectors we find a new opportunity for approval trade. Not to the collector who is definitely attempting to fill only the album spaces, being satisfied with a single example of each stamp for that collector definite. stamp for that collector definite-ly knows just what he wants to Bennington, Vt. buy and the simplest method for both himself and the dealer is for him to send a want list of wanted items. If this is done he wanted terms it this is dealer who can pick out the very stamps that are wanted and submit them to the collector. The collector can send lists which will fit his own pocket book and he is saved the trouble of hunting through miscellaneous approval selections for the wanted items. Let us say this collector is collecting Bar-

The problem then is to fill the back issues, Any general request for a selection of Barbados on approval may or may not bring him some of the older stamps which he wants but it certainly would bring him an endless array of all the newer and later issues which any good dealer would have in stock, but which the collector also has, so why the collector also has, a ask for approvals. However when it comes to the student, that collector who wants student, that collector who wants all possible varieties of any stamp for his collection, then again the approval selection is the thing. Big dealers who hold fine stocks of any country usually prepare approval selections of this nature. These selections are the ideal way for showing what they have and for showing the student collector tamps that may interest him. ing the student collector stamps that may interest him. Many items in such selections are not listed as such in any catalogue so the approval selection is the one and only way to show such material and big buyers find this method a practical one. WHAT ARE COVERS?

Ordinarily a cover is an envel-ope that bears postage stamps and has been through the mail and canceled. Enlarging on this, the early stampless folded letters or early stampless folded letters or envelopes are also called covers and in fact a wrapper from a par-cel, having the stamps on the wrapping paper and having been canceled in the mails becomes a cover. Thus a cover is any con-tainer that has passed through the mails and bears the cancellation or postal markings. A wooden box may be a cover provided the stamps are stuck directly on the box or a label attached thereto and have been canceled in the postoffice.

The moment you get tough, letters start coming in to the editor complaining that I find fault with everything in philately and maybe I ought to put on a little Lord Fauntleroy collar and short pants and smile penignly and let all the rackets flourish. There is but one group of U. S. stamps on which there is a wholesale supply and that is wholly the cheaper stamps of the 20th century and a bare few of the older issues. Even in 20th century items, all the really finer items are out of the market as wholesale material and what is wholesale material and what is mostly available are the wholesale material and what is mostly available are the more common commemoratives of the past 20 to 25 years. IT TURNED INTO A LOVE FEAST

Our columnist, Mr. Lawrence W. Case has kept you and us sort of fed up and on the anxious seat for a report of an announced debate between himself and Mr. Steve Rich which was scheduled for Mon-day night, January 15th, before the Essex Stamp Club at Newark N. J. We have ample evidence that Mr. Case had pre-ready turned it over to the printer with the intention of printing it in full in this issue of the paper and we were going to announce at the same time that we would gladly print the remarks of Mr. Rich if a copy were supplied to us. We even went so far as to write our editorial for this week, based on this address by Mr. Case. After all this work had been done, then comes a hurried letter from Mr. Case telling us that he and Mr. Rich got real chummy at the affair and that he cut down his address pared to go to this affair with blood in his eye to tear Mr. Rich to pieces for he sent us a copy of his address just before the engagement was to take place. We read this address carefully and had al-considerably and devoted most of the evening to open discussion with those present.

Thus, you who have been waiting for this great event are doomed to disappointment for it apparently turned into a love feast.

We would have been glad to print the address as prepared by Mr. Case for it contained much that we consider of constructive value to our hobby and we wished to discuss some of the points further, but since we have no knowledge as to just what part of the address, if any, was delivered, we are unable to print the copy we have and must therefore rewrite our editorial.

There is one point in the prepared address by Mr. Case that we are going to discuss here and that is his statement that there is jealousy among the publishers of the weekly stamp papers.

For our part we can deny that there is any jealous feeling to-ward any of them. Our paper is wholly different from all the rest. Different because we have planned it that way. We have no feeling about the slick paper jobs for we do not think it means anything, except a higher priced paper. We do not believe that one person out of 100 keep their papers for any great length of time.

We consider the function of our paper is to print the news of the stamp world together with bits of general information for current consumption and that when the paper is read it will be discarded like your daily newspaper, for who has room to clutter up their home with piles of old papers.

I have been active in the stamp world for nearly 50 years and I can assure anyone who wants to know it that had I retained all my old stamp magazines year after year that today it would take a full sized moving van to move them.

A very limited amount of what is printed in any of the papers is deserving of being filed for future reference. Some may retain a few papers for a period of time, but most of them are discarded like your daily paper and that is what we plan for.

As for our being jealous of other papers, perhaps Mr. Case has wrong slant. It is but natural, in fact it is the business of any publisher to wage a constant fight for two things. If fighting for those things causes someone to say that the publishers are jealous of one another it is only because that party misunderstands the job that a publisher must accomplish.

The publisher must first fight for and build circulation, which means getting subscribers. That alone is the greatest and biggest job that any publisher has to accomplish and is the one job that he should be most interested in. If he succeeds in that, the other is easy of accomplishment. The second thing a publisher has to fight for is advertising support. It is perhaps in this field that Mr. Case would place the most jealousy among publishers, but again we deny that there is any jealousy on our part. We fight for advertising patronage as all the papers do and all we ask for is an honest break. By that we mean that the publishers should in justice to themselves as well can and you, friend Kunze, but as as their readers and their advertising patrons, get together with a uniform rate card, a uniform contract and a uniform system of business practice.

Only in the past month have we lost an advertising contract which was canceled because we would not permit a man who had signed for a 52 week period to skip the holiday weeks because he said he did not care to handle business over the holiday period. When we refused this permission he told us that STAMPS magazine permitted it on a 52 week contract and sure enough, this mans' copy was not printed in STAMPS for December 23 and 30. We wrote Mr. Lindquist and inquired what his practice was in a case of this sort and he assured us with much insistance that they would not permit the man to skip the issues, yet this is just what they did and when men in the same line of business can not plan their business practices in an honorable way to compete in an honorable way with others in the same business, it is time that something were done and any man who thinks it is jealousy among the publishers, just do not understand, the situation. Rather than call it jealousy it should be called FEAR, or DISTRUST and that is a very poor situation for the stamp press of this country to be in and the publishers can remedy it if they will. If the publishers are too afraid of one another to get together and remedy these matters, then we hope to see the day when the American Stamp Dealers Association gets big enough to get up on its hind legs and tell them that they must come clean.

While we have gone this far, we might as well shoot the works so we tell you who want to know, that the advertiser we referred to above is Mr. Bert Green of Miami Beach, Florida. He was favored by leaving his advertising out of the two holiday issues of STAMPS because he said he did not want to bother with business over that period and you other fellows who may have felt the same way paid for your advertising over that period. Mr. Green tells us that had a 52 time contract with STAMPS. Is there any reason that there is ill feeling among the publishers. It is not jealousy, but just downright poor business for all of them.

white faced Roman, on a dark background.

The designer of the master die for these stamps was William K. Schrage. The picture was engraved by C. A. Brocks while the letters were engraved by Axel W. Christensen. The numerals on the different denominations were engraved by: John S. Edmondson, 1, 3, 4, 10, 30, 50, 70, 80, and 90c Edward H. Helmuth, 7 and 20c; Axel W. Christensen, 2, 5, 6, 8, 9, 40, and 60c.

Further information on the new Postal Note Stamps has been ob-tained since the above was writ-ten and we can now state that the stamps are all of the same design, all printed in a black ink and from the Electric Eye process on the rotary presses with the sheet makeup and markings the same as other Electric Eye print-

We are further advised that the We are further advised that the proceedure in selling the Postal notes will be that you pay 5c for the note plus the face value of the note and any stamps for odd amount which must be affixed. It should therefore be evident that after you do this, the Postoffice Department will not care whether you cash the note or not and if you want the stamps for your colyou want the stamps for your col-lection all you have to do is put them there.

JOSEPH J. GOLDBERG, Editor 4735 N. Bernard St. Chicago 25, Hi.

FRANCE-Overprints. Several sections of France overprinted current Vichy issues to meet the demands of the new government. In most cases the overprints consisted solely of the letters "R. F." with a few using the Cross of Lorraine and either "Libre" or "R. F.", according to information received from Leon Monosson. Some of these issues were very limited either "Libre" or "R. F.", according to information received from Leon Monosson. Some of these issues were very limited, due to available supplies. A N N E C Y overprinted the 1Fr.50 Petain (10,000), while CREUSE overprinted six values of the same type with the Cross of Lorraine. Values and quantities in the latter instance were: 1Fr. (390); 1Fr.50 (1,500); 2Fr. (310); 3Fr. (310); 4Fr. (410) and 4Fr.50 (410). Annemasse overprinted eleven of the Petain heads and five tax stamps with "R. F." There were 4,000 of each of the postage excepting the 1Fr.50 of which there were 11,000, and 500 of each of the tax adhesives. Postage values were: 60c., 70c., 80c., 1Fr., 1Fr.20, 1Fr.50, 2Fr., 2Fr.40, 3Fr., 4Fr. and 4Fr.50. The tax values were 10c. 30c., 50c., 1Fr. and 1Fr.50. Aveyron also printed "R. F." on the Petain heads, with quantities unreported. Values here were the same as the Annemasse postage set excepting the 80c. BORDEAUX, lacking sufficient type to overprint the sheets in a single style used three distinct styles. The two top rows horizontally were in a heavy squareish lettering; the next three rows were of the serif style, and the last five rows were a thin square letter, Values so treated were the 60c., 70c., 80c., 1 Fr., 1 Fr.20, 1Fr.50, 2Fr., 2Fr.30, 3Fr., 4Fr. and 4Fr.50. The tax stamps for Bordeaux, also with the three styles, were: 30c., 50c., 1Fr., 1Fr.50, 2Fr., 2Fr.30, 3Fr., 4Fr. and 4Fr.50. The tax stamps for Bordeaux, also with the three styles, were: 30c., 50c., 1Fr., 1Fr.50, 2Fr., 3Fr. and 5Fr. —N. Y. Sun FR MOROCCO—Air Mails. A new 1Fr.50, 2Fr., 3Fr. and 5Fr.

Brightening Up Philately: Try A "One-Page Display" Collection

In The Australian Stamp Monthly
By S. W. Winders, Qld.
Upwards of 40 years ago I was attracted by an article in an English philatelic journal written in advocacy of a "One Page Display" collection as a pleasart dispraying collection as a pleasant diversion from the then hard and fast rules governing most general collectors. Undaunted by the lack of suitable material available at that time the author of the article, by means of illustrations showing sample pages of scenery, animals, birds, etc., presented his case very attractively, and must have secured many new recruits for this new phase of collecting, including the writer of today's article.

For a number of years the col-For a number of years the col-lection so started was continued on a small scale up to the time I decided upon matrimony! Be-lieving, that from a financial stand point, matrimony and philately would not prove an ideal combi-nation. I was food with the process. nation, I was faced with the necessity of making a decision between them! I had in mind the old axiom, them! I had in mind the old axiom, "If business interferes with your pleasure, then give up business," but decided that the principle could hardly be applied to matrimony and philately, and so I forsook my stamps! Now, after 37 years of matrimony, I say to any young philatelist facing the same problem, don't forsake either! I know my wife would far sooner be the grass widow of a philatelist than that of a golfer or a politi-P. H. Crane, 834 Keniston Ave., Los Angeles 5, Calif., (A. P. S. member Ne 13334).

It has been said and written on many occasions that the history ensure the correct position on the finished page.

I have exhibited several hundreds of these sheets in four States of the Commonwealth and in N. Z., and they have always evoked favourable comment. The arrangement of your collection is, however, a personal matter, and I have inspected several arrangements which differ from the one here suggested which make a many occasions that the history of most general collectors, unless

The stamp's the thing, after all! of most general collectors, unfess they be millionaires or maniacs, is one of successive delimination and in a lesser degree, of course, this applies just as aptly to the subject collector. One well-known British subject collector, Rev. W. Loxley Chamings, who, by gradual elimination, reduced his collection to subjects covered by the five thing, after all!

Having decided upon your method of mounting an annotation, you will be faced with the problem, and no mean one at that, of arranging your sheets in the most effective and suitable sequence, the easiest solution of course being to adhere to strictly alphabe. cago, ml. A "One Page Display" will have exactly the same result. from one subject to another, and so must impress any non-collec-tor who sees it, is by no means the ideal arrangement even in a collection of modest dimension, Experiments over more than a decade on "One Page Display" collecting commend a sectional lecting commend a sectional scheme which brings kindred subjects into their appropriate groups, whilst retaining that variety in design and colour which is so essential to effective display. The number of subjects in a group In such a display one has the opportunity of exercising their opportunity of exercising their ideas of neatness and orderly arrangement, their powers of observation, originality and initiative, and sense of proportion. A few stamps arranged with due regard to appropriate blending of design and colour can be made a thing of joy and beauty for ever—for yourself, and your friends. For my self, I take everything in my stride as it were! The regular postage stamp, locals, reprints, forgeries, postal labels, stationery, first-day (or any day) covers cachets, etiquettes, posted stamps, postmarks or meters. Seebecks, remainders, speculative, fiscals, customs tax, salt tax, dog tax income tax, pill The number of subjects in a group The number of subjects in a group may vary from half a dozen to well over a hundred, and even under this scheme many kindred subjects are placed in different sections as, for instance, poets in the philatelic portrait gallery and poetry in the arts and professions, which applies also to art, law, literature, science and other subjects.

Your ideal type of arrangement can only be determined by your-self after a great deal of thought and experience, and much pleasure and instruction may be derived in the process. My own choice of a sectional scheme, which may prove helpful to others is comprised in the following groups:—The Adhesive Stamp and Its Uses, The Adhesive Stamp and Its Abuses, Stamp Production. Its Uses, The Adhesive Stamp and Its Abuses, Stamp Production, Philatelic Portrait Gallery, The Story of Life Told On Postage Stamps, Architecture, Arts and Professions, Aviation, Charity, Commemoratives, Primary Production, Industrial and Manufacturing, Scenic, Transportation, Sporting, Ethnographical, Zoological, Religious, War Music, Postal Stationery, Philatelic Medley, Miscellaneous Subjects, Illustrated Index.

Your objective should be the presentation, in the most effective form, of the history of the postage stamp and its numerous offspring, and alphabetical arrangement will not attain this end.

HARRIS BUYS RARE REVENUE INVERTS Overcrowding is the mistake most common with the novice; even the more advanced are some times offenders in this respect, times offenders in this respect, and nothing looks more displeasing to the eye than a conglomeration of badly blended colours massed together on a single page. To be fully effective every item on the page must play its part in producing the desired effect of a pleasing and well balanced whole. In most cases the stamps show to the best advantage when mounted The Savannah, (Ga.) Evening Press of December 8th contains a half column article telling of a bright youngster who was a stamp collector and to whom an Uncle had given a bunch of old docu-ments bearing stamps. The boy noted that the head of George Washington was upside down on some of the stamps and began a the best advantage when mounted on jet black tabe slightly larger than the stamp itself, these in turn search for them in the catalogue. His prowess was awarded by an offer of $3250 for the stamps by H. E. Harris & Co., so the story being enclosed in a similarly shaped frame of black India ink. The geometrical shape will be found very satisfying and attractive in arranging the stamps, and this presents no difficulties, even to the novice.

Add Brooklyn.

Mr. Dale Wilson of Louisville, Ky. informs me that there is another War Issue Bureau, the 3c Brooklyn. I note it too in HOOVER BROS. recent auction list. This was not an error of omission but simply a belated item that was not reported at the time the list published was compiled. The to-tal now is 46 with 20 1c values, two 2c, and 24 3c values. It is quite possible that one or more of these War Issue Bureaus might still appear but the large bulk of recent Bureau issues have been on the Presidential series.— We note that the 3c Dayton War We note that the 3c Dayton War Issue was shipped in November too so when that comes out that will be another one.—Omaha 3c also but three items out of 18 for November shows that they are being cleaned up. Decembers shipments should tell the tale.

Interesting Tabulation. The compilation of new "Bureau Prints" as compiled by Dr. Mitchell in the "Forum" is very interesting. He has the Wide Presidentials, Narrow Presidentials dentials, Narrow Presidentials and War Issue numbered as they were reported to him. This of course is not necessarily the exact way they were released but the final compilation is as complete as could be The 2c Payton Coil is final compilation is as complete as could be. The 2c Dayton Coil is the 1013th Wide Prexy to be listed, the 6c Kansas City Narrow Prexy is the 548th Narrow item and—Oh yes he has the Dayton War Issue for the 46th so Brooklyn or Omaha will take 47 and 48th place. Roughly totaling these and adding the Wide and Narrow Defense items we have just a few Defense items we have just a few less than 2000 items. This against 3160 old type Bureaus shows how

Postmaster Russ Neary's eyes nearly popped out of his head when he saw what was on the face of a letter which was laid on his desk Wednesday for delivery in

It was not an unusually large letter nor unusually heavy, nor did it come from very far away,—only from New York City. But it bore on its face the largest amount of cancelled postage that anybody in the Bridgeport Post Office had ever

The sender had paid Uncle Sam The sender had paid under sam $1,101.11 to get that letter carried from New York to Bridgeport! This staggering amount of post-age was indicated by eleven postage- paid receipts for $99 apiece and one for $12.11.

The manner in which the letter arrived was a little bit unusual, too. It came through the mails all right, but it was escorted all the way from New York to Bridgeport by the armed guards of the U. S. Postal Service who never let it out of their sight a minute.

It was a letter from the Federal Reserve Bank of New York to the Bridgeport Broader's Sevings hear!

OUR PRICE LIST

We have received numerous requests for our latest price lists. In line with the paper conservation policy of our Government, we have refrained from issuing frequent complete price lists. Instead, we have continued in effect our red covered Jubilee Price List of last spring, supplemented by two subsequent lists, wherein are reflected all our price changes. Such original Jubilee Price List and two Supplements are available upon written request by dealers only.
